POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

California's "quickie" election, brought about by the consolidation of the regular August primary with the presidential primary, set for May 16, has plunged both candidates and their backers into a frenzied flurry of activity — and the campaign guns will soon be booming, months ahead of normal schedule!

Hundreds of candidates for the U. S. senate, for congress, the legislature and judicial and county offices, who had expected to have six months or more to patch their political fences tnd conduct their campaigns, have now suddenly found the time shortened to about three months, due to the surprise action at the special legislative session, combining the two elections to facilitate soldier voting.

The result is that many of the aspirants have been literally caught with their pamphlets down, without a piece of campaign literature, a dollar in their war chests, or a committee they can call their own. Of this number, scores will undoubtedly file, only to die on the vine for lack of financial and political sustenance.

This year, more than in ordinary times, the race will go to the swift—and to the boys who have the means of reaching the voters quickly and at a minimum of expense, for campaign funds will be slim and the vote at the May 16 election will probably be the lightest in recent political history.

Justus Craemer, Orange county publisher, farmer and member of the state railroad commission, one of the major candidates for U. S. senate, has undoubtedly benefited by the stepped-up election, as Mr. Craemer's many friends in the newspaper profession, the farming industry and other walks of life already had done a great deal of ground work in his behalf before it became known that the election was to be held early.

Taking time by the forelock, Mr. Craemer acted with dispatch. On the day that the legislature set the election for May 16, letters went out from Mr. Craemer to nearly 200 newspaper publishers, who had urged him to become a candidate and pledged their support, advising them that he would shortly announce his candidacy.

"I have weighed the matter carefully," wrote Craemer, "and have reached my decision. I will be a candidate for U. S. senator—and with your support, and that of a host of other good friends who believe as we do, I am confident we will win." His formal announcement of candidacy, it was indicated, will be made within the next few days.

Other possible candidates for the senatorial post, who have either announced or are considering the race (but some of whom are likely to withdraw) include Lt.-Gov. Fred Houser, Superior Judge Goodwin Knight of Los Angeles, State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson, Board of Equalization Member William Bonelli and Phil Bancroft, the 1938 Republican nominee. On the Democratic side, the incumbent, Senator Sheridan Downey, will be opposed by State Senator Jack Tenney of Los Angeles and possibly others.

Clubwomen Hold Birthday Party

The annual birthday party and tea at which past presidents were honored, was held in the Community hall Feb. 7 by Campbell Country Woman's club. After a brief business meeting called to order by the president, Mrs. W. H. Van Dyke, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Jessie Shelley, chairman of the day.

She introduced a member of her committee, Mrs. Ricardo Villafuerte who entertained with three lovely vocal solos, "On the Journey Home" and "Greeting," Greig, and "The Star," James Rogers. She then led the group in community singing, with such old favorites as "Annie Laurie" and "Auld Lang Syne." Mrs. Shelley introduced the past presidents of the organization who responded with short talks giving the interesting happenings during their respective administrations. Past presidents in attendance were Mrs. E. I. Price, Mrs. E. R. Kennedy, Mrs. L. J. Carboni, Mrs. D. H. Cramer, Mrs. M. E. Purmort, Mrs. H. C. Smith, Mrs. R. H. Hyde, Mrs. W. R. Morgan, and Mrs. G. E. Jeffers, the 16th president of the club. Mrs. Shelley read a telegram of regret from Mrs. Ralston Allison and a letter from Mrs. F. L. Howes who were unable to attend. The program was augmented by a talk by Mrs. Lillian Voge, daughter of Mrs. E. R. Smith, the fourth president, and by the reading of a history of the club by the chairman.

After the delightful program, tea was served by the committee, with Mrs. E. I. Price, first president, and Mrs. G. E. Jeffers, the junior past president, pouring.

The hall was beautifully decorated with acacia and huge bowls of fresias and torch lilies, with a low bowl of camilias on the president's table.

Committee in charge of the afternoon included Mesdames Jessie Shelley, Milton Robertson, Ira R. Abbott, J. A. Forward, Ricardo Villafuerte, Donald Page, and Ernest Fahler.

Kiwanians Hear George Gilman On Prunes, Plans

A subject in which this area is vitally interested, "Prunes," was discussed by George Gilman of San Jose at the Kiwanis meeting Tuesday.

Gilman is chairman of the agricultural committee of the county planning group.

He stated that the prospects for the future would be planning for 20 years in advance. He made a few predictions covering the valley, stating that there was strong probability that certain parts of the county would be broken up into smaller parcels, and the south county into large ranches.

Much of his talk concerned the early history and development of the prune industry, planting, drying and marketing.

In the years 1929-33 we led the world in prune production, 185,600 dry tons. Santa Clara county led the state with 82,220 tons or 52 per cent.

The years 1914-1923 saw the heaviest prune plantings.

David A. Sanders was welcomed as a new member of the club and W. H. Van Dyke was presented with a perfect attendance pin for six years, and R. E. Noddin for five years.

Joe V. Gomes was chairman of the day.

Next Tuesday Ross Trowbridge will officiate and some excerpts from the Footlighters' production of "He Ain't Done Right by Nell," will be presented.

Marian Anderson Comes to San Jose Friday, Feb. 25th

Marian Anderson, "high priestess of song," will appear in the civic auditorium, San Jose, on Friday evening, Feb. 25, as the third event of the San Jose Concert series. The fame of the great contralto has increased with each year before the public until her art has no rival in the realm of contralto song.

Two days later, on Sunday evening, February 27, the Noel Coward stage comedy, "Blithe Spirit," will be shown. This fascinating comedy, starring Clifton Webb, Peggy Wood, Mildred Natwick and Haila Stoddard, is on the coast with the original New York cast. Tickets for both events, which are under the Denny-Watrous management, are on sale at the auditorium box office.

Congressman Jack Anderson, who has represented the Eighth district in the congress for the past six years, will be a candidate for re-election in the May 16 primaries, according to information received today from Anderson in Washington. In the past two elections Anderson has ben retained in office at the primaries.

Glenn R. Baker, who has been Anderson's field representative here for several years, announced the congressman will file from his home county of San Benito, where he was widely known as a fruit rancher before going to Washington. Other counties of the district include San Mateo, Santa Clara and Santa Cruz, and Baker said campaign headquarters will be in San Jose.

Thursday night, Feb. 17, Congressman Anderson will be heard over Station KQW between 9 and 9:15 o'clock in another of his reports to the district on national affairs.

Quota Almost Reached In Bond Drive

Campbell has not as yet reached its quota for the Fourth War Loan but is gaining, but the last amounts are always the hardest to secure.

Totals to Thursday morning were $136,170.15, leaving $8,829.85 still to be purchased to just make the $145,000.

High school students who assumed the whole responsibility of this campaign have done a fine job. and are continuing their efforts to reach their goal by Feb. 15, when the drive ends.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH CONGRESS?

One of the highest honors and greatest obligations in the American system of government is implicit in sending our favored sons to congress. But as a whole, that body has been conducting itself in recent years in a manner to undermine its own dignified and important position in national affairs.

A case in point is the hodge-podge income tax tangle that even many of the trained men of the bureau of internal revenue admit they cannot figure correctly.

The dignity and the honor which rightfully belong to congressmen and to other representatives of American government has gone glimmering in too many quarters, giving way to ridicule and distrust. For featherweight thinking and trigger response to political pressure are not the sterling stuff of which good representative government is made.

Average Americans all understand the compelling need for war funds, for their sons are fighting at the front. There are few to object to the pressing new tax schedules. The increased rates of from one to one hundred per cent on telephone, transportation, theater tickets, bowling, beer, wine, billiards and postage will be met whatever the pinch. But repeal of credit for earned income, making it more profitable for a man to clip coupons than to work for a wage or fee, is widely viewed as another evidence of silly thinking that doesn't square with the American philosophy.

The demonstrated inability of congressmen to agree on a tax collecting method that all reasonably intelligent citizens can understand is a challenge to their original right to accept and their present privilege to remain in their seats of honor.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

This week we celebrte the 135th birthday of the tall, gaunt rail splitter who came out of the wilderness to become the most beloved figure in American history.

Now in the trial and toil of a world at war, we turn to the memory of this man who led the nation through the desperate days of another great struggle. Somehow we feel that his spirit marches with us today.

Lincoln's all-consuming desire was to preserve the Union. He saw that this could not be done if the nation remained "half slave and half free." His immortal declaration comes ringing down the years that the nation was "conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal."

In 1944 we are fighting for this principle on a world-wide scale. We are fighting that men, regardless of race or color or creed, may live their lives free from the domination and tyranny of those who would segregate the human race and call some "superior" and others "inferior."

In his memory and in the memory of those who fought and are fighting for this great principle, we too may "take increased devotion" that "these dead shall not have died in vain."

RAYMOND CLAPPER

The American press and the American people have suffered a real loss in the death of Raymond Clapper, who was killed in a plane crash during the invasion of the Marshall islands.

By the highest standards of his profession, he was a fine newspaperman. He was fair, courageous and responsible.

At the age of 51 he had spent 28 years in newspaper work and had traveled hundreds of thousands of miles in gathering news first-hand. He was "on the job" to the very end.

IN DEFENSE OF WOMEN

Climaxing a long history of bitter attack by less enlightened states against California's community property law, congress now has enacted legislation that for death tax purposes would consider a married couple's entire estate the property of the husband.

In his appeal to the United States Supreme court, Attorney General Kenny calls the new law "one of those cruder concepts implying the inferiority of women and their subordinate place in the social order."

To Californians it seems utterly incredible that the lawmakers of other states should prefer to keep their womenfolk in legal vassalage. So far only about a third of the states have recognized the equality of husbands and wives in community affairs.

The congressional act not only blasts at the dignity of women's position in the several community property states, but in the words of the attorney general, it is "almost in contempt of the authority of the states to make their own laws." In Kenny's opinion it may nullify the right of a wife to file a separate income tax return.

The progress of the case will be reviewed with interest, for from an economic viewpoint the community property law means much to this state. And from a sociological standpoint, California has no intention of retrogressing back to the medieval thinking of some states which find their womenfolk "subordinate and inferior." California women aren't.

ELECTIONS COMBINED

As a war-time measure, the California legislature has unanimously passed a bill consolidating the May presidential primary election with the August state primary, and Governor Warren has signed it. May 16 was set as the date for the combined election. Consolidation of the two primaries was recommended to to the assembly by its election committee after it was found that no other plan would assure effective soldier voting in the November general election. Preparations for the May election are getting under way. Preliminary steps already are being taken in the selection of the Warren-instructed delegation to the Republican National convention. Governor Warren has emphatically declared on numerous occasions that he is not a candidate for either the presidency or the vice presidency although the delegation will be nominally pledged to him. Selection of this delegation through the Republican County Central committees is being urged as a means of accurately reflecting the wishes of rank and file Republican voters in California.

SOUND LEADERSHIP

The American people face a severe test this year. They must maintain unity in the war effort while they divide politically in the tug-of-war over the presidential election in November.

Even now the political parties are confronted with the responsibility of selecting their candidates. With the Democrats there seems to be but one "choice." But with the Republicans that decision will be made only at the Chicago convention in June.

Those who are delegates to that convention will owe a solemn obligation to millions of Americans—Americans who are convinced that the Republican party, under sound and able leadership, can be one of the greatest factors in the world to bring about the defeat of our enemies and to establish peace and understanding among the nations.

The selection of the Republican nominee must therefore be lifted above mere political considerations. The man chosen not only must be of proved capacity and ability, but he must also have demonstrated a realistic grasp of national and world problems.

Curing Meat

To dry-cure meat involves more work than to brine-cure it, although it may be a little less expensive. It is less difficult to pour brine over it than to rub meat several times with the dry mixture. Also, the brine-cured meat is not so dry and is a little more palatable.

THE BOOK MARK

by marty

"My Family Right or Wrong" by John Philip Sousa III.

The author of this book is the grandson of the world-famous March King. There is no mention at all of the renowned musical composer, which is indeed a break for the old boy; the only thing musical in the entire volume is the number of laughs to a page.

John Philip Sousa III has written a book which is a family portrait as outrageous as a surrealist painting of the Sousa family who normally functioned like a three-ring circus.

There is Pop. He wanted to run things—that is things outside the home. He was an honorary deputy sheriff, consistently arrived at all fires ahead of the fire fighting crew; was chairman of the annual tennis tournament, and gave away the Ford car at the street dance, much to the disgust of the church ladies who had imported a movie star to do the honors. When he wasn't too busy running things he fished and hunted. Few things riled Pop, however, small children got in his hair and he was always threatening to "put a bullet into one of them."

The star of the book is Mother. Mrs. Sousa was the whole show at home. At home she reigned with complete authority. Arriving home from abroad, while their residence was in the east, she conceived the idea that because the children needed new winter overcoats it would be "cheaper to transport them to a warmer climate than to shelter them against a cold one." Mother is a character closely akin to one of our well known comic personalities. She was so absent-minded that when she signed checks she used her married name, her maiden name, or the name of the person to whom she had been talking but recently. The bank got in the habit of "accepting almost anything that looked like her handwriting." She ruled the home with strong will, but in a manner hilariously comical. To me she is the core of all comedy in the entire book.

After having dried my eyes from tears of laughter as I completed this book I felt I had been listening to a dear friend tell in his natural funny manner the happy incidents of his childhood at home. Without the wit, the consistent comic expressions of the author this tale would never have reached its present popular height in the book world.

Rationing News

Ration points for waste fats are given housewives on the basis of net weight of the salvage material turned into the butcher. That means the dealer is to deduct the weight of the can in which the fat has been saved. For your guidance here's the can weight for some typical containers: no. 1 soup can, 2.2 ounces; No. 1½ dog food can, 2.7 ounces; no. 2 vegetable can, 3.6 ounces; no. 3 full quart vegetable can, 5.3 ounces. Since the OPA authorized dealers to give housewives two meats-fats ration points for each pound of salvaged fat turned in, the government drive for waste fats has more than doubled. These fats go into the making of explosives, sulpha drugs, and other vital war materials.

When the new ration token plan goes into effect on Feb. 27, food ration stamps will be good for a much longer period than at present. So Mrs. America will be able to budget her food points over a longer period without having to be crowded by expiration dates. And tokens, which will be given as change for stamps will be valid indefinitely. Another feature of the ration token plan will simplify the food rationing programs is the fact that all stamps validated after Feb. 27 will be worth the same—ten points each.

Olios To Be Part of Entertainment On Evening of Feb. 22

Following the melodrama "He Ain't Done Right by Nell," presented by the Footlighters in the high school auditorium on the evening of Old Settlers' Day, Feb. 22, the audience will be treated to another fine entertainment of olios in which Joseph Garofalo, one of the leading magicians of the valley will be featured in old time magic. Also on the program will appear Danny O'Neil, well known accordianist of the high school and Guilbert DuMont in trumpet solos. Community singing of well known old time songs will be led by Don Baldwin and the Campbell Barber Shop quartet will "give out" with gay nineties songs. Archie Keesling is master of ceremonies.

Tickets for the performance are available at business houses in Campbell or may be purchased that evening at the door.

Overseas Voting Procedure to be Widely Published

Sacramento, Feb. 9—Frank M. Jordan, secretary of state, today called upon all California newspapers to aid in disseminating information concerning voting by those in the armed services.

Asking newspapers to publish the information so friends and relatives could advise overseas personnel by mail, Jordan said the pertinent facts were:

The federal government will furnish cards to those away from their home precincts for the purpose of applying for ballots. In addition to the information requested on the cards, absentee applicants should designate their political party.

Designation of political party is important, Jordan said, because if this is not included and the applicant has not previously registered, only a non-partisan ballot will be returned for voting.

Gas Tax Money For S. C. County

State Controller Harry B. Riley today apportioned $96,456.49 in gasoline tax money to Santa Clara county for the quarter ending last Dec. 31. The county's share was computed on the basis of a motor vehicle registration of 77,849.

Riley said that the apportionment was 12.60 per cent less than that for the corresponding quarter last year.

The many friends that Miller has made here regret the necessity of his retirement.

Students Support Youth Center

Results of the recent questionnaire sent out to C.U.H.S. students are evident in the fact that very soon a youth center will be opened in the Campbell Boy Scout Hall. Larry Cowper, one of several students working with the Community Youth Council, announced that a snack bar is to be set up, and efforts to secure a juke box are being made.

The purpose of the new center is to give students between 14 and 18 years a place to go during free hours. There will be planned recreation, and it is probable that dances will be held on Friday and Saturday nights, although it is not yet definite.

Rev. Donald Baldwin, with the Community Youth Council which is made up of representatives of various youth groups, is in charge, and other leaders will be chosen from various local clubs.

Opinions of students were varied, but all agreed the center was a very good idea.

Said Bill Page, "I think it's a swell thing, and it should do a lot for community spirit."

Bob Knowles said, "I also think it's a good thing."

Jean Lester's reply to the reporter's query was, "It will be just what the students of Campbell schools need."

Gloria Broadbent briefly gave out this opinion of the new organization, "It's a good deal."

Jeanne Reynolds expressed much the same feeling about the new center. She said, "I think it's o. k."

If all students, especially those who live here in town, get behind this new plan, leaders feel that the success of Campbell's Youth Center is assured.

Local Cagers Will Meet S. C. Friday

With plenty of fighting spirit after their good showing last week against a strong Mountain View team, Campbell's basketball team expects to give Santa Clara's Panthers a run for their money next Friday night when the Bucs travel to the Mission City prepared to avenge their double defeat in the last contest.

As Santa Clara has a strong team and has won several games this year, they will be no push-over. However, Coach Ralph Noddins' cagers are out to win both games and may spring a surprise on the highly rated Panther hoopsters.

The game will start at 7:30 in the Santa Clara gym, with plenty of Campbell rooters expected.

Wrestlers Make Good At San Jose State Mat Tournament

Campbell wrestlers went to the San Jose State gym last Saturday to compete with nine other schools in a championship tournament.

Seven of the eleven men who wrestled won at least one match before being eliminated. Frank Shepherd and Bob Hall turned the tables on their San Jose opponents of the week before. Hagen won the first match in which he has participated.

Hall won his first three matches by decisions——all by 4-0 scores—before losing in the finals, in an overtime match, 9-6.

O'steen's match with Johnson of Lincoln was really fast and furious, Johnson winning with a 9-7 lead.

Other men who wrestled for the Campbell team were as follows: La Mar, Eugene Arnold, Gene Arnold, Hill, Reese, Linden, and Caruso. Campbell took fifth place in the tournament with six points.

Other teams competing were Sequoia, San Jose High, Hayward, Lincoln, Fremont, Salinas, San Jose Tech, Santa Clara and Fremont of Sunnyvale.

Tomorrow the Campbell grapplers will meet the Santa Clara team at home. Coach Walter Hill guarantees that it will be a good scrap.

MARCELINE BENECH NAMED TO LEAGUE PRESIDENCY

Marceline Benech is the new president of the Girl's League, as the result of an election held Thursday, Jan. 28.

Donna Pannekoek was elected vice-president, and Gloria Ragnacci was elected secretary.

Miss Ruby Howes, the Girl's League adviser, expects to have a Mother-Daughter tea scheduled for some time this spring. This will be the big event of the second semester.

Coal for Medium Tank

Forty tons of coal is required for steel to make one medium tank.

Bond Buying Runs Below 90 Percent

The title of "Class of the Month" goes to Miss Claribel Boesch's chemistry class whose purchases for the month of January averaged $60.20 per capita. Miss Florence Smith's class was a runner-up, with each student purchasing an average of $32.35.

Sales for the month totaled $5,665.95 with 91.3 per cent of the students participating.

Considering the record made in January, the results of the sales of the first week in February showed quite a let down, with 39 students not buying at all and six classes with averages lower than 90 per cent and running as low as 66 per cent. The low classes are those of Miss Bradshaw, Mr. Hill, Miss Howes, Mr. Hughes, Mr. Noddin and Miss Petersen.

Maintaining 100 per cent were the classes of Miss Boesch, Mrs. Dart, Mr. Dumont, Mr. Klassen, Mr. McQuesten, Mrs. Rae, Mr. Ralston, Mrs. Ruf, Miss Smith, Miss Thompson, and Mr. York

Although the sales were $1,459.40, averaging 90.8 per cent, they must be boosted if the Minute Man flag is kept waving.

Blind Artist Is Musical Treat

Delighting her audience at the assembly Friday, Miss Rose Resnic of the National Transcribers' Society for the Blind played her way into the hearts of C.U.H.S. students when she rendered her boogie woogie version of "Chloe."

The assembly, sponsored by the society, was given in order to raise funds necessary for the transcribing of popular books into Braille. A total of $55 was donated by students for this purpose.

An interesting demonstration of the Braille alphabet was given by Miss Melva Leonard, assisted by Mrs. Cooper.

Winding up the program was a medley of songs played by Miss Resnic, and also an amusing account of how she got her dog, Ilsa.

Cagers Stack Up Double Victory In Fremont Game

Showing a vast improvement over their first encounter Campbell Bucs took the lead early in the game to defeat Fremont 33-8 on Jan. 28. In the first game of the season the Bucs defeated Fremont by only two points. The second string provided the scoring punch for both games, with Bill Harrison scoring 13 points for the 30's and Howe and Cowper scoring 8 points apiece for the unlimiteds. The thirties, ahead 14-3 at the half, wound up the night with a 28-18 win.

Starting lineups were as follows: unlimiteds—forwards, Del Grande and McQueen; center, Wilson; guards, Skaggs and Magnuson. Substitutes were Smith, Grattan, Kosich, Howe, Cowper, Gutto, Steele, Nelson, and Sisemore. Skaggs Was Captain.

Starting for the 30's were forwards Amaro and Ekstrand; center, Williamson; guards, Nichols and Buck.

Substitutes were Harrison, Meyer, Harris, Jeffers, Keesling, Grim, Furtado, Zimmer, and LaMar. Williamson was captain.

Nurses' Tea Attended By Campbell Girls

Six Campbell girls were among those of Valley schools who attended the tea given recently at San Jose Hospital for girls intrested in nursing as a career.

The girls were greeted by Miss Margaret Breth, who spoke here recently about the Cadet Nurses' Corps organization, and Miss May Heath, superintendent of nurses.

After being taken on a tour through the surgery, nursery, wards, laboratory, kitchen, and residence of the nurses, the girls were served tea in the reception rooms of the home.

Girls who attended were as follows: Dorothy Mason, Dorothy Arnold, Lorraine Persico, Alice Cooney, Kathleen Balarin, and Gloria Francesconi.

Teachers attending were Miss Ruth Eales, Miss Dorothy Thompson, and Miss Helen Nielsen, who serve as Red Cross nurses' aides at the hospital, and Mrs. Gladys Ruf.

Red Murphy, Scoutmaster for the Air Scouts, is said to be well pleased with the group being organized here, but regrets that there are not more boys in the group. Those interested should see M. F. Hughes, W. H. Van Dyke or Mr. Murphy. The Kiwanis club is preparing the Scout hall for the boys' use.

FROSH FOOD SALE NETS $50 FOR TREASURY

Fifty dollars is now in the Freshman treasury as a result of a food sale held during fourth and fifth periods, Jan. 28. It was the first one ever held by the Freshman class.

Some time this semester the money taken in will help finance a proposed class dance.

DU MONT'S "ORIENTATERS" PRODUCE FOR RED CROSS

Students of Mr. Guilbert Du Mont's second period orientation class are to be commended for the fine work they have been doing for the Red Cross, according to Mrs. Alfreda Runge, chairman of the organization here.

They have supported each project 100 per cent, and in addition they have turned in 85 scrapbooks for hospitalized service men. At present the students are making ashtrays and wash cloths for service men.

Marguerite Weeks was in charge of the scrapbook project; Red Cross and March of Dimes drives in this live-wire group were headed by Dolores Hansey; Ethel Bianucci keeps 'em buying every Wednesday.

Mrs. Jack Murdock, Mrs. Ethan Lanphear and Mrs. Lowell Benson were shopping in San Francisco Wednesday.

Seniors to Give Spring Carnival

In the way of activities coming up in the spring semester, the Seniors' Carnival should be placed on your calendar.

Scheduled for March 3, the suggestion to have a carnival was made by Elwood De Vilbiss, who will be the general chairman. Dennise Bushnell will be in charge of decorations, and as yet no other committees have been appointd.

The plan to stage "The Cat and the Canary" was abandoned when it was learned that Miss Paula Bradshaw would not be able to supervise the production.

EAT THE RIGHT FOODS EVERY DAY FOR HEALTH

When you buy food think of all your meals for the day so that your family gets the proper nutritionally balanced diet. Be guided by the Government recommended chart of the 7-Basic Foods which supply the essential protein, vitamins and minerals for better than average diet.

After you buy your day's food take care of it. Keep it under proper refrigeration.... Fresh vegetables for example, quickly lose vitamin content if exposed to room temperature. Cook foods according to correct time and temperature and for most vegetable cooking use little or no water. A thorough steam-through is the proper thing to do.
